

OVERCOMING A RYUK RANSOMWARE ATTACK

CHALLENGE

Major RYUK ransomware attack executed very early on a Saturday morning compromised the entire digital infrastructure (and backups) of a large network of healthcare clinics.

WORST CASE

If unable to recover, $750M healthcare company could be out of business in a week.

SOLUTION

Leading MDR security partner jumped in and within hours helped Client deploy endpoint agents across the network to track intruders actions. Once the attack was stopped and isolated, they worked together for the next several days to remediate all the infected machines, and rebuilding from an offline database.
